

OSi Supports Gulf Coast HIMA Symposium

May 16, 2007—Holly Woemmel, Director of Client Management for OSi, was one of the featured speakers at Gulf Coast Health Information Management Association’s Symposium in Tampa, FL. Ms. Woemmel, MA, RHIA, has been employed with OSi for over 2 years and worked in the acute care setting for 17 years before taking on her current role. Among many other accomplishments, Ms. Woemmel received the “Outstanding Professional of the Year” award from FHIMA, where she served as President for the 2005/2006 term. She is also an adjunct professor at University of Central Florida teaching Medical Terminology.

Ms. Woemmel’s presentation at the GCHIMA Symposium included recommendations and guidelines for choosing a vendor, which can be a very complex process for HIM professionals. The presentation offered planning and budgeting tips when selecting vendors, as well as how to work with other departments to maintain efficiency during the purchasing process. The GCHIMA Symposium was held at ITT Technical Institute in Tampa, FL, where a Health Information Technology degree is now offered.
